

THIS IS WHO HQ TRIVIA!

In this kit, you'll find everything you need to host a Who HQ Trivia game!

- Question and answer sheets
- Category templates with cut-out cards to create a trivia game board
- Who HQ trivia headers (optional)

PLAYING THE GAME:

1. Select one person to be the host and hold on to the question and answer sheets. This will most likely be a bookseller, educator, or librarian.
2. The host will assign one of the two prompts provided on the question and answer sheets to each point value based on category. Feel free to mix and match the options or write your own prompts to host the game multiple times.
3. Remember, all answers should be phrased as questions. For example, the answer to the prompt, "A Mexican painter known for her colorful self-portraits," is "Who was Frida Kahlo?"

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Use the page numbers to help you print this kit or click the buttons to fast travel to those pages.

SETTING UP THE BOARD:

1. Print out one of each of the category template pages.
2. Cut each along the dotted lines. You should have six (6) category titles and five (5) points cards ranging from 100 to 500 for each category.
3. You can place the board wherever you like using tape, tacks, glue, etc., but we recommend organizing it so that it looks like this:
